John L. duFief, Inc.

John L. duFief, Inc., is a small family-owned construction company established in Potomac in 1958. Its major focus of work is new homes and additions.

The fundamental philosophy of the company is to build a better structure by applying the following basic principles:

- Harmonious architecture
- Sound structural engineering
- Quality materials
- Superior workmanship
- Close supervision
- Attention to detail

John duFief and his father are carpenters by trade and are well-versed in residential home building. Together, their practical experience enables them to demand quality workmanship in all the related trades of home construction. A small company has the luxury of being able to closely monitor the materials used, the labor costs and labor efficiency, in order to exercise complete quality control. These advantages allow the company to be competitive with other custom builders while making sure your new home is everything you dreamed.

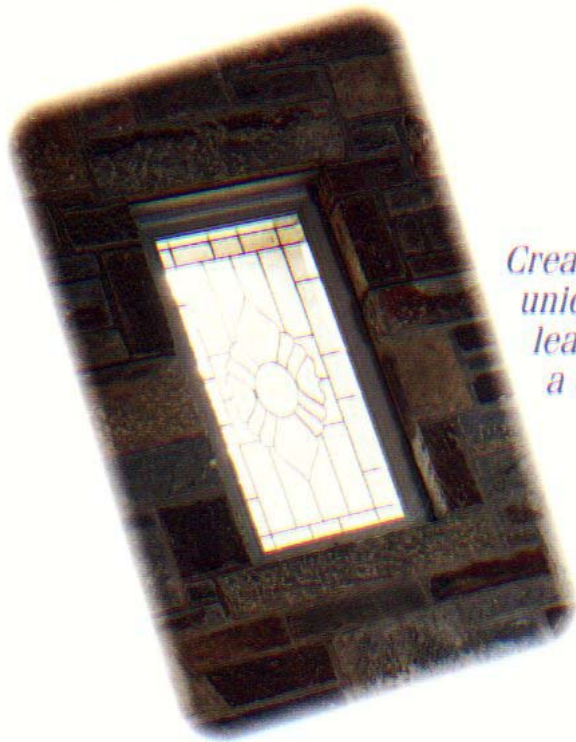

Charming rooms prevail throughout a duFief home.

When building your new home or addition, careful planning is the first and most important step. We will work with you, the architect and the decorator.

We take complete responsibility for sound structural framing, precise interior and exterior finishes and proper site grading for water tight foundations.

Your duFief home will reflect your personal style.

Creativity abounds. This unique chimney with leaded glass window is a duFief innovation.

This gracious foyer says Welcome to all who enter.

A bronze medallion is the signature of a fine duFief home.

A residence designed to fit your personal lifestyle.
